

Picking Season Opens Jobs for Farm Workers

With the picking season for cannery tomatoes begin in a small way on the edge of Orange County and Los Angeles County, Harry C. Bohlander, Farm Placement Representative at the Gardena office, announces job openings for anyone interested in doing this type of work.

Good barracks and dining rooms are ready to receive single men for this work. Board will be furnished at $1.75 per day with no charge for barracks accommodations. Transportation is furnished from the camp to the fields free. The office also refers men and women to this work who have their own transportation and wish to drive to and from the work.

Crops are good and with a few days of experience most persons can earn good wages. This will be one way people can help the country by harvesting a needed crop. Those who are thinking of going north to the fruit harvest should check with the Gardena office, so as to land in the areas where work is available with no loss of time.

Cotton pickers can be referred direct to the ranch in India. Picking has commenced. It is recommended that people interested in harvest work talk to this office about tomato picking as it is closer to this area. It is suggested that people come to this Gardena office to register to be sent out. Tractor men, poultry men, milkers, and general farm hands should register so they can be called when job orders come in.

The Farm Labor Office is located at 16407 S. Hampshire ave., Gardena, Calif.

On Fishing Trip

Kendall Baker Jr. and Robert Scranton of Welteria spent Wednesday and Thursday, August 8 and 9 at the Catalina Inn, in Avalon, California where they spent the two days fishing, according to Kendall's mother, Mrs. Kendall Baker Sr., of 24212 Adolph ave. The boys caught some fine fish while on their 10-day stay in Avalon during the month of June.

Moose Lodge Honored By Mooseheart Fund Spokesman

John C. Melkie, secretary of the Moose Foundation, this week expressed his gratitude to the Torrance lodge of the Loyal Order of Moose for their contribution to the Mooseheart Endowment Fund. Melkie's letter of thanks was read by J. A. Evans, secretary of the lodge, at Monday's meeting of the order.

"The universal concept, in America, that every child is entitled to equal opportunity, even though its economic security is jeopardized by the loss of the father, makes Mooseheart the superb symbol of devotion to the welfare of childhood everywhere," wrote Melkie.

"The Loyal Order of Moose has justified its existence as a fraternal society in many ways," continued the Foundation secretary in his communication, "but none so outstanding as the fact that it founded Mooseheart nearly years ago and has expended tens of millions of dollars over these years for the support of this great humanitarian endeavor. Thousands of boys and girls and their widowed mothers," concluded Melkie, "have reason to be ever grateful for the vision and unselfishness of the members of the Moose who gave them their opportunity in life."

National Moose week will be celebrated by the local lodge with a party and dance at the Carson street hall on Sat., Aug. 25th at 8:30 p.m.
